REACT DEVELOPER

I would love to work with you on interesting projects. The most important thing for me in my work is to have space for self-development, I prefer to work on React, in which I already have more than 5 years of experience, but I also want to work with other technologies if possible: Node.js, databases, GraphQL or another backend. A hybrid work schedule would be ideal for me: I want to be part of a team, learn from others or teach someone myself, and be able to work independently.
